

June C. Grabemeyer
Agricultural Economist
Michigan State Office
USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service
East Lansing, Michigan

June has worked for NRCS since 1993. Her work includes developing economic materials for the Field Office Technical Guide and providing training. She has been an instructor for the economic portions of the NRCS Courses and is part of the national team of trainers for Emergency Watershed Protection and Conservation Economics. June has worked for NRCS in Syracuse, NY; Spokane, WA; and Harrisburg, PA prior to coming to Michigan in 1999.

Prior to working for NRCS, June was a Farm Management Specialist with Cornell Cooperative Extension, an agricultural loan officer, and worked in private industry. June served in the Peace Corps in Liberia, West Africa with the Ministry of Agriculture on a project to establish an Extension Service there. June is a native of Michigan where she grew up and worked on her family's farm in Cass County. She attended Michigan State University and has a BS degree in Community Services and a MS degree in Agricultural Economics.

June is a former member of Toastmasters International who completed the Competent Toastmaster Level and was the winner of several local and area speech contests in the state of New York.